The senth anniversary of the Woman's Christian Association was celebrated at the Franklin-Street home of the institu- January. tion yesterday.

Congratulations were received from many sources, and at the meeting and entertainment, which took place during the afternoon, the parlors were fairly crowded with well wishers and those who are interested in the work.

The annual meeting of the Board of Managers took place at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Joseph Bryan, the president of the society, was unable to be present, on account of sickness, and the chair was occupied by Miss Norwood, third vicepresident. Bishop Penick opened the proceedings with prayer, and Rev. W. B.

Williams read a passage of Scripture. REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read, and the report of the president was presented and read. After deploring her inability to be present, Mrs. Bryan sends her greetings and congratulations to the board. She states that the question is often asked, "What is the Woman's Christian Association?" The only way to answer the question so that it will be understood is to give a short sketch of the work from its infancy. As early as 1850, Mrs. Bryan says, thoughtful Christian women the Union had recognized the necessity of providing in the large cities protection for young women compelled to leave the shelter of their homes to earn a livelihood, and, as a result of this recognition, houses were established in numerous places. No home was pro-vided for such girls in Richmond until Yet, while these homes were springing up in all other directions, 7,000 white were at work in this city.

Where did they live? From whence did they come? Who cared for their welfare? Who were their companions? What would their future be? To whom could they turn in trouble? These were burning questions pressing night and day on the heart of that truly consecrated woman, Mrs. Anna F. Rahm. She called a number of her friend sto meet in the dor of Mrs. F. M. Whittle's residence ten years ago. Difficulties were presented, but they were overcome. A flat of six rooms was rented on Main street, furniture was given or lent by som friends, while others gave them linen china, and other necessaries. A matron was installed and one boarder was se-The association was poor, but rich in courage and enthusiasm.

SECURED ITS OWN HOME.

By the next year, the association was able to rent a whole house, at 619 Main street, and it was soon filled with seventy-nine young friends.

The rent was a great drain, and soon proved the need for the association to own their own home. In 1880 two most desirable houses—the present home—were offered on the most advantageous terms. The offer was accepted. It was a bold thing to do. In the spring of 1891 the association held an entertainment. styled a carnival of nations. It was under the leadership of Mrs. J. H. Capers, assisted by Mrs. J. P. Hanson. By this means $7,000 was raised, and with numerous donations from private sources, in three years $15,500—the pur-chase price—had been paid. The insti-tution was free from debt in Octotution was free from debt in Octo-ber, 1892, but they still needed furniture and alterations, and the people of Richmond were prompt to supply their necessities and they were nobly aided. The panic of 1893 and the subsequent business depression curtailed the resources of the home, but it prospered even during those dark days.

During the ten years just ended 379 boarders and 285 translents have been admitted to the benefits of the home. Of these, thirty-seven boarders and 135 transients came during the past year.

Mrs. Bryan congratulates the asso-ciation on the fact that their pariors have been used by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the King's Daughters, and expresses the hope that the City Mission and the Needle-Work Guild will also use the rooms of the in-stitution for their meetings.

The association includes many departments, continues Mrs. Bryan—all full of interest. She makes allusion to the work accomplished by the Free Sewing School, which had started with six chiliren and now had seventy members. In the fail of 1890, the report continues, the Woman's Christian Association opened on Fourteenth street a Free Kindergarten. In 1892, the location was anged to the Old-Market neighborhoo but now the work was so expanded that new quarters must be sought. The thanks of the association are due espe-cially to the City Council for the donation, without which the nursery would nave to be closed.

Moore, who has been absent for some months through sickness. A touching allusion is made to the death of Mrs. Charles Spence, the representative of Park-Place church, and of Mrs. M. E. Was It an Air-Ship?

(Wilmington (N. C.) Messenger, 6th.)

Hundreds of people were out on the streets and wharves last night, looking at a brilliant doating mass in the heavens to the west of the city. It was moving very rapidly, and many persons saw network about the aerial wonder. Some of our very best and most reliable citizens saw so much of the heavenly stranger that they had not the slightest doubt but that it was the air-ship which has been reported from other cities. The ship moved to the west at a rapid rate. It seemed to have something like a searchlight facing earthwards, and created a sensation among all classes of people.

The ship appeared to come from the ocean, and passed opposite Market-Street dock, going in the direction of the Navassa Guano-Works. Some gentlemen who saw the ship through field-glasses inform us that they could see wires and ropes and rigging about it. To the naked eye many colored lights were visible. Even those who looked at it without glasses admit of no doubt but that it was an air-ship. (Wilmington (N. C.) Messenger, 6th.)

"When the Roman Catholic church in Portsmouth, Va., burned down the other day, the Baptist and the Methodist churches of the city offered the homeless congregation the free use of their chapels until it could provide itself with another edifice, and these Methodist and one Episcopal clergyman called personally on the priest to express their sympathy with him and his people."

This news paragraph, which is now going all over the country, is certainly interesting. It makes pleasant reading in these days, and shows a spirit that, let us be thankful, is making itself more and more apparent in all parts of the country. It is a spirit of which this country cannot have too great a supply.

THE GRANT MONUMENT.

Protest Against Any Organized Body of Confederates Attending the Unveiling. To the Editor of the Dispatch:

As an humble Confederate, I desire to enter my earnest protest against the idea that any body of organized Cosfederates ought to be seen in the procession at the unveiling of the Grant monu-

But the especial objection I make is that organized bodies of Confederate soldiers should march in no procession where they cannot carry their tattered battle-flags, and be treated as the full
